WHY

The Children’s Museum of the East End is thrilled to host “Whimsy,” an exhibition featuring the work of seven local artists. Curated by Kimberly Goff of the Elaine Benson Gallery, the show demonstrates a broad spectrum of the varied artistic talent found throughout the East End. “Whimsy” will open with an artists’ reception on Saturday, May 19th and will remain on display at the Museum through Tuesday, July 3rd.

"Three words: Amusing, playful and fun. “Whimsy” is fun for children and adults as well, "said Kimberly Goff, the show’s organizer. “I’m thrilled for the Elaine Benson Gallery to once again have a presence in Bridgehampton at the Children’s Museum.”

“Kimberly’s curation has allowed us to share our mission with a completely different audience and we expect that this latest exhibit will bring even more new faces to the Museum,” added Steve Long, the Museum’s president. “We’re also delighted for the opportunity to introduce our regular visitors to the work of so many talented East End artists. We couldn’t ask for a better partnership.”
